Important Information For All Patients

Important Information For All Patients

Your nursing care

During your stay nurses will be allocated to care for you 24 hours a day. These nurses may comprise a team of Registered Nurses, Enrolled Nurses, Assistant in Nursing and sometimes students and trainees.

We understand the importance of continuity of care and try to allocate the same nurse each day, however sometimes this may not be possible.

The Ramsay Rule

The Ramsay Rule is our commitment to patient safety and partnering with you and your family and allows us to provide excellent care.

If you are worried about a patient in hospital, first talk to your nurse or doctor. If you are still worried, ask to speak to the nurse in charge. If you are still worried, call the number below (whether in facility or outside) and ask to speak to a 'Ramsay Rule Clinician'.

Initially concerns are raised with the nursing staff and the Nurse in Charge of the ward. If you or your family are still concerned about your clinical condition, the final step is to ring a dedicated hospital phone number which alerts a senior clinical staff member. This call initiates a timely clinical review by an experienced clinician.

In addition, the objective of the program is also to acknowledge you and your family's concerns and take appropriate action. (Step by step instructions can be found on page 19.)

Partnering with consumers

As a patient you will notice that the staff will include you and your family / carers in your treatment by seeking information from you and giving information to you to ensure that we are providing the right treatment to the right patient and regularly monitoring your care.

Patient Centered Care (PCC) is an important part of your care. It is a broad term used to describe healthcare that is respectful of and responsive to the preferences, needs and values of you, as patients and consumers. PCC is an important measure of healthcare safety and quality.

PCC is more than customer service, in that it involves actively consulting, collaborating and partnering with patients, carers and families to not only improve your perceptions and experience of healthcare, but to also support your healthcare rights and responsibilities, improve your health literacy and the quality and safety of the wider system of healthcare.

We may at times seek input from patients regarding patient information publications, new processes or equipment to ensure that they are either easy to understand and informative, or what patients are needing in hospital.

Preventing & controlling healthcare associated infections

Strategies and education are in place to dramatically reduce your risk of acquiring an infection from your hospital stay. The nursing staff will provide education to you regarding your role in participating in our infection control program. Please ask should you have any questions.

Hand Hygiene

Hand hygiene is the single most important factor in reducing hospital acquired infections. Everyone plays an important role in stopping the spread of infection by ensuring they regularly sanitise their hands. Please ask your visitors to sanitise their hands on entering and exiting your room. All staff should also always perform hand hygiene in front of you. Please feel free to remind staff if you are concerned this has not been done. Alcohol hand rub is available in every room and throughout the hospital.

Clinical handover

As part of the management of your progress it is important that all members of the healthcare team communicate to you about your treatment and care effectively. To assist in the process we utilise a standard approach to transferring information using the acronym ISBAR. There may be many situations where you will hear staff talking about you or your care. These discussions will generally take place with you in attendance. If you hear information that is incorrect or that you don't understand we encourage you to speak up to staff to explain or repeat the information. Within the rooms there is a white board which will be used by the staff who will be looking after you to write their names and any other significant information including goals for the day.

Medications

Please inform nursing staff about any medication you are currently taking, including any herbal or complimentary medications.

For safety reasons these will be securely locked in your bedside cabinet and made available for use during your stay with us. For your safety, the nursing staff will administer ALL your medications whilst you are in the hospital from their original labelled pharmacy containers. Legally we are unable to use any alternative containers, such as webster packs and dosette boxes as we may be unable to identify the medications. We suggest these be left at home.

If however, you believe an error has been made in regards to your medications please speak up and talk to the nurse caring for you.

Additionally it is likely that you will be prescribed extra medication whilst in hospital. Should you have any questions or concerns please discuss these with a staff member or request to speak to a Pharmacist.

Medication Safety

Our staff that administer medications are qualified to do so and are assessed regularly to ensure they remain competent. We utilise systems that ensure that we match you to your intended treatment. Each time the nurses administer medication to you they will ask you to identify yourself, or check your identification band, and ask you about any allergies that you may have. Any medication errors that may occur are reported, thoroughly investigated and analysed to learn from them.

Patient identification

We are committed to the delivery of safe patient care by adopting the Australian Commission for Safety and Quality in Health Care's National Specification for patient identification. The hospital has developed and implemented an organisation wide system for patient identification using key identifiers and questions to correctly identify you and match your procedure. These include:

- · What is your name?
- When were you born?
- · Why are you here?

it's your right to a healthier life

Ramsay Health Care staff must ask you the question, we cannot assume based on appearance.

Are you of Aboriginal and / or Torres Strait Islander origin?

- Receive culturally appropriate care and support
- Receive the right health care and services
- Health Service staff must ask you the question
- Ramsay Health Care are here to help with your health care journey

People caring for people.

Pressure injury prevention

A pressure injury (also known as a pressure sore or bed sore) is an area of skin that has been damaged due to prolonged or unrelieved pressure. Pressure injuries may look minor, such as redness on the skin, but they can hide more damage under the skin surface.

Pressure injuries usually occur over bony areas – especially heels, buttocks and toes. Anyone confined to bed or a chair, who is unable to move, has loss of sensation, loss of bowel or bladder control, poor nutrition or is unwell is at risk of developing a pressure injury.

The best thing that can be done is relieve the pressure by keeping active, and changing your position frequently, whether you are lying in bed or sitting in a chair.

If you are unable to move yourself, the staff will help to change your position regularly. Special equipment such as air mattresses, cushions and booties may be used to reduce the pressure in particular places following assessment. If you are at an increased risk, your staff will develop an individualised care plan with you. Staff will also inspect your skin daily to identify if a pressure injury is developing. Tell staff if you have any tenderness or soreness over a bony area or if you notice any reddened, blistered or broken skin.

Keeping your skin and bedding dry helps to keep the skin in good condition. It is important to let staff know if your clothes or bedding are damp. Avoid massaging your skin over bony parts of the body. Use a mild soap and moisturise dry skin.

For more information, speak with the nursing staff caring for you, or ask for a patient information pamphlet.

Falls prevention

It's surprisingly easy to fall or slip whilst having treatment. Medication or fatigue may affect your balance, or you may not be as fit or as steady on your feet as you normally are. That's why we ask you to take particular care when standing or moving about because your safety and wellbeing are important to us. On admission we will assess your risk of having a fall and will implement strategies to reduce your risk of falling. The following describes a few ways you can reduce the risk of a fall.

Medication

Pain-relieving drugs or other medication can make you feel dizzy, as can changes to your medication. Always take special care when walking or getting to your feet.

Unfamiliar surroundings

Make sure you know the layout of your room and where the furniture is. Take particular care if moving around at night and ensure you have the lights on.

Flooring

Tiled floors, lino or other hard surfaces can be slippery, particularly if wet or when you are wearing certain kinds of footwear. Check the floors in your area and avoid using talcum powder whenever possible.

Your condition

Ask your doctor or nursing staff to fully explain your condition so you know if you should ask for help with standing or walking Your physiotherapist can also give you advice with balance or mobility.

Visiting the bathroom

You may need to use the toilet unexpectedly or more often than usual whilst having treatment. If you need help, or think you may need to visit the toilet more frequently, please ask the nurses, they are here to help you feel as comfortable as possible.

Clothing

Loose or full-length clothing like pyjamas or dressing gowns can cause you to trip. Make sure these are the right length for you.

Footwear

Check that your slippers or other footwear fit securely.

Our Falls Management Program aims to ensure that minimal, if any falls occur, however if they do the frequency and severity of injuiries from falls is decreased.

Why would I need a blood or blood product transfusion?

Some patients may need a single or emergency transfusion after major surgery, childbirth or a major accident/illness.

Potential risks

Although Australia's blood supply is safe; blood and blood component transfusions are not risk free. Complications can occur, as with all medical procedures. Severe reactions to blood transfusions are very uncommon.

Is there anything I need to do during the transfusion?

- During the transfusion you will be closely observed.
- Your physiological observations and general condition will be monitored by the nurse caring for you.
- Report to the nurse as soon as possible if you notice any chills, fever, problems with breathing, rash, if you are worried or feeling unwell in any way during the transfusion.
- Before any procedure is carried out, you will be asked to give your permission or consent. You should make sure you understand the reasons, risk and benefits when you are asked to give consent for a transfusion.

In some cases alternatives to blood product transfusion may be suitable. Ask your doctor if this may be so in your case.

Should you wish to read further about blood product transfusions please ask the staff caring for you for an information booklet entitled "Blood and Blood Component Transfusions"

Patient Manual Handling System (PMHS)

We aim to optimise patient quality care as part of our ongoing quality improvement process. We have implemented patient handling work practices for staff that eliminates lifting of a patient's full body weight when handling, transferring and mobilising our patients. Your nurse will assess you in relation to your ability to move yourself in bed, sit up, stand and walk. The nurses will encourage you to be as independent as possible. If you need assistance the staff may use equipment or aides that will facilitate your movement, making it more comfortable and safe for you, whilst reducing the risk of injury to staff assisting.

Electrical safety

All electrical equipment, including laptop computers, electric shavers, hair dryers, radio/stereos and clocks, have the potential to affect our electrical network. Please consult with ward staff to have your electrical items checked prior to use in the hospital.

Medical records

A medical record will be kept of your admission and treatment. This will be confidential with access being limited only to the healthcare professionals directly involved in your treatment. This record will remain the property of the hospital. The contents of your medical record will be divulged only with your written consent, or where required by the law. You may request to review your medical record at any time. Please contact the Nurse Unit Manager to organise this.

Medical staff

The doctor (VMO) who admits you is responsible for your medical care whilst you are a patient in Nowra Private Hospital. Each doctor will have a different time of the day that they will visit the hospital.

Career Medical Officer

The hospital provides 24-hour Resident Medical Officer coverage in liaison with your VMO to assist with your care in hospital.

We have a system in place to flag changes in your condition. If you or your visitors are concerned about your condition, we ask that you inform your nurse immediately. They will assess you and inform the senior nurse or medical officer of your condition as necessary.

Students in training

As a teaching hospital of a number of local universities, we are involved in the training of medical, nursing and other health care students. We hope you appreciate the importance of their training. However, if at any time you do not wish to be seen by students, please let the Nurse Unit Manager or nurse caring for you know.

Stop the clot

As you may be restricted to bed or have limited mobility, you are at risk of complications of blood clots. The nursing team will assess you daily and your doctor will decide your treatment. To reduce the risk of clots you are encouraged to keep your fluids up and get moving as soon as possible - remember to do gentle exercises for your feet and legs while you are in bed.

Your doctor may prescribe some or all of the following:

- Mechanical devices such as graduated compression stockings - these are elastic stockings over the calf of your leg and should be worn until fully mobile, or intermittent pneumatic compression - which involves a garment around the leg that is regularly inflated and deflated to squeeze the leg.
- Anti-clotting medicines work by reducing the blood's tendency to clot. They can also increase the risk of bleeding so your doctor will aim to get the dose right for you.

Security

Surveillance cameras are positioned in common areas within the hospital providing 24 hour security as well as on-site security guards.

Smoke-free environment

In accordance with the Department of Health Policy, smoking is not permitted at Nowra Private Hospital. It is recommended that you do not smoke before and after your procedure.

Staff identification

All staff wear name badges as a means of identification and internal security. The badge shows the staff member's name and position. Additionally our staff wear different uniforms depending on their role within the hospital

Valuables

We strongly recommend that you do not bring any valuables to hospital. Nowra Private Hospital does not accept responsibility for patient's valuables. A small safe is available in each room, however valuables remain your responsibility.

Ten Tips For Better Health

Ten Tips for Better Health

Australia has one of the best health care systems in the world. This means when you visit a health care service you can expect the highest standards of health care available.

With your help, systems in health care can continue to be improved so that problems are less likely to occur.

No single person or group can improve health care systems on their own. Improving safety in health care is not only the business of doctors, nurses or other health care professionals. Everyone has a part to play - especially you, the patient receiving care.

Be actively involved in your own health care

 Taking part in decisions about your treatment is the single most important way to help prevent things from going wrong and to ensure the best possible care for yourself.

Speak up if you have any questions or concerns

 You have the right to ask questions and to expect answers you understand, however, your health care professional can only answer your questions if you ask them. You have the right to ask for another professional opinion. A family member, carer or interpreter can be present if this will help you.

You may wish to say:

- I'm not sure I understand what you said
- I'm worried that...
- Could you please explain that to me again?
- Can I come back with my family to talk about this again?

Learn more about your condition or treatments by asking your doctor, nurse or other health care professional and by using other reliable sources of information

You may wish to ask:

- Can you please tell me more about my condition?
- What can I do to help myself? When should I come back to see you?

Make sure you understand the medicines that you are taking

Make sure the medicine you have been given is exactly what your doctor ordered for you. If you are starting on a new medication, or told to stop taking your medication be sure you understand what side effects may occur and if or when to restart.

You may wish to ask:

- What do the directions on the label mean?
- Do you have any written information about this medicine?
- How much should I take, and when is the best time to take it?
- What are the common side effects?
- What should I look out for?
- How long before it starts to work?
- Will this medicine interact with the other medicines that I am taking?
- Are there any foods or other things that I should avoid while I'm on this medicine?
- How long do I need to take this medicine?
- Do I restart taking the medication and when?

Make sure you get the results of any test or investigation

 If you don't get your results when expected, don't assume that everything is automatically alright. Call your doctor to find out your results and ask what they mean for your care.

Make sure you, your doctor and your surgeon all agree on what course of action will be taken during your operation

 Although carrying out the wrong operation or on the wrong side is extremely rare, even once is too often.
 Examples include operating on the left knee rather than the right knee, or removal of the appendix instead of the gall bladder. Ensure you confirm the operation details with the surgical team, just prior to the operation.

Before you leave hospital, ask your doctor or another health care professional to explain your future treatment plan

 When people are discharged from hospital, doctors can sometimes think their patients understand more than they really do about their continuing treatment and follow-up.

You may wish to ask:

- Who will be following up on my care and when do I need to see them?
- How long will I be taking this medicine?
- Will I require physiotherapy or other rehabilitation services?
- When can I return to work?
- When can I play sport?
- When can I drive?
- Will I be given a written summary of my care to give to my doctor?
- Remember to visit your doctor after you are discharged.

In hospital you can expect your health care professional to:

- · Actively involve you in your own health care
- Set aside time to allow you to talk about your concerns
- Provide information for you in a language and format that is easy to understand
- Complete a medication history that takes into account over-the-counter medicines, herbs, vitamins, alcohol and recreational drugs that you use
- Provide verbal and written information about medicines in plain language
- Make sure that you get the results of your tests and investigations
- Provide you with complete information about your treatment if you are to have surgery or a procedure
- Make sure you know exactly what is going to happen to you in surgery and that you have consented in full
- Discuss discharge planning. Start planning as early as practical, if possible, before the time of hospital admission

Where can you go for more information?

A good place to start finding information about your condition is the Health Insite website www.healthinsite. gov.au. Your local library may help you with access to the internet.

You may also like to contact a support group for people with similar conditions.
